Creative Clovers 4-H Club

News Reporter-Carli Hutchison

The Creative Clovers had their 3rd meeting on February 14. The meeting was called to order and the Pledge of Allegiance was led by Sierra Burriss. Next Lauren Park led the 4-H pledge. The Club planned a Community Service project at the Pickaway County Animal Shelter. Guest speaker, Dan Goeglein, Naomi's grandfather, discussed his career at the Ohio Department of Agriculture and their role of assuring quality care for animals, as well as food safety and quality assurance. After that Hannah Good demonstrated how to make a Fish Tail rubber band bracelet. Finally, advisor, Angie Kinne, discussed the color wheel and the members made their own by cutting out colors in some magazines. The next meeting will be on March 9th.

Walnut Porkers

Annaleigh Jett, News Reporter

The Walnut Porkers 4-H group had their annual Spaghetti Dinner at St. Paul Lutheran Church on January 19, 2015. We sold 530 meals total at $7.00 each person. We want to thank everyone who helped sponsor our group. We made a total of $128.00 for the 50/50 drawing and kept $64.00. Our Cloverbuds have been busy making crafts for our booth at the fair. The children have been doing their individual presentations during each meeting and have also completed their selection of programs and received the program books at the meeting held March 8, 2015. Our goal is to purchase more hog pens this year to help increase our total from 16 to be used at the fair. Upcoming events include the 4-H Opportunities Day at the Grange Bldg/Ohio State Fairgrounds on March 28th from 9-11 am. OSU Junior Swine Day is on OSU Campus on March 28th, registration needed by March 20th. The annual 4-H Camp will be held at Tar Hollow between 7/10-7/13/15. Thank you to all who supported the Walnut Porkers 4-H group. We could not do it without your help. Rough Hands, Farmer Tans, Dirty Boots and Country Roots!
